

CASE STUDY

Halifax Bank of Scotland

About API

Halifax Bank of Scotland is one of the UK's leading banks, now part of the Lloyds TSB group with a truly nationwide presence.

The Problem

As part of the government's faster payments legislation, HBOS had to implement a new and faster system to deal with investigations. The existing system was manually based and paper driven and could not meet the new requirements.

The Solution

Our services team reviewed the business plan and using our Rapid Project Mobilisation method established a team of blended resources between consultants and HBOS subject matter experts. We then project managed the requirements gathering, solution design, TOM design, implementation planning, testing strategy, training and go-live support.

The Benefits

The solution was implemented on time and within budget in a challenging environment when other projects were going off track.

We established a team of blended resources between consultants and HBOS subject matter experts.
